

CUSD World Language Textbook Adoption Process

The World Language adoption process began by inviting two publishers to present their programs to World Language secondary teachers. World Language teachers were given curriculum according to the level they were currently teaching. Teachers were asked to pilot both programs for the longevity of eight weeks.

A series of meetings took place with World Language teachers during the eight week pilot. During the meeting teachers discussed the curriculum and collaborated on providing feedback on the various components of both programs.

Every World Language teacher rated each program according to a rubric that was created. All votes were tallied and the following program was selected:
